TWO REDCLIFF BOYS NAMED IN CASUALTIES

Jack Hodge Killed in Action
And Chas. Oxworthy Is
Wounded—Both Wounded
Here and Were Chums

Last week the names of two Redcliff boys appeared in the casualty list. Private Jack Hodge is mentioned among the killed in action and Private Chas. Oxworthy among the wounded.

Both these young men were in Redcliff at the time war broke out and they enlisted at Calgary, last, the 68th. While here they were engaged in the plastering business. They had always been chums and enlisted at the same time.

In writing to friends here Private Oxworthy stated that he was with Hodge at the time he was wounded. It is a sad coincidence that Oxworthy himself should be the next from here to appear in the casualty list. Fortunately his wounds are not serious.

All Returned Soldiers To Obtain Benefit

The militia department at Ottawa has decided to grant to some 600 soldiers who were invalided home prior to March 1st last the same rate of pay and separation allowance as has been granted to soldiers returning since that date. Up to March 1st returned soldiers on reaching home were not allowed the separation allowance of $20 per month during the period of convalescence or until they were discharged from the service.

On March 1st the regulations were changed so as to grant the separation allowance until the period of final discharge, together with 60 cents per day subsistence money and $110 military pay. This new regulation has not been made retroactive, thus placing the men who returned before the first eight months of the war on the same footing as the men who have returned since March 1st last. A return of money due the men concerned will now be sent to them.

Men in convalescent hospitals do not receive subsistence money and are not affected by the new order.

Britain Turning Out Abundance of Shells

H. R. Morgan, a director of the labor supply department of the imperial ministry of munitions, who has been sent to Canada to advise with the imperial munitions directors as to labor problems in the Dominion in connection with munitions work, has arrived in Ottawa. In an interview Mr. Morgan gave some illuminating facts about the way Great Britain organized her war industries and utilized, under government supervision, every resource of the nation.

Mr. Morgan points out that at the present time Great, through effective organization, is turning out in four days as large an output of heavy shells as was turned out in six weeks in 1914-15. In three weeks Britain can turn out as much 18-pound munition as she produced in the first 12 months of the war.

In 1914 the total number of war workers was 360,000; today the total is 5,500,000.

Another Ship Sunk Without Warning

The United States' embassy received a report from Wesley Frost, United States consul at Queenstown, that the British steamer Marina had been torpedoed without warning. It had lost a number of Americans were on board.

Mr. Frost now is procuring affidavits from survivors. A report on the sinking on October 26 of the British steamer Rovanore also was made to the United States' embassy Monday by Mr. Frost, including statements from five Filipinos who were on board the Rovanore. Several of them, when Mr. Frost asked them to state that a submarine had fired at them while they were being lowered and after they were clear of the ship.

Our Monty Woodcock Not The One Meant

Yesterday's Calgary Herald contained a note of Lieut. P. F. Woodcock of this town, and stated that he had been killed in action at the front. "Monty" his friends around here will be glad to learn that this is a mistake, and that he is still in the service in England. Although of the same name and rank, the Woodcock referred to is a native of Ireland.

Naturally this report caused considerable worry and anxiety to his parents here but after carefully considering the circumstances it became quite evident it could not be our "Monty" who was the unfortunate one.

When last heard from Lieut. Woodcock had just got out of a hospital in England where he had undergone an operation for gall stones, and as he was not completely recovered he had to return to the hospital again. Owing to his illness he has not yet been to the front and there is no doubt he is still in England, and in all probability in a hospital there.

Alberta Ranch to be Made Into Farms

The placing on sale of 10,000 acres of the Cameron ranch, northeast of Lethbridge, which comprises in all about four townships, marks what might be termed the last stage in the settlement of southern Alberta, and a step towards the development of a farming country. The Cameron ranch, owned for years by the late Sir Robert Cameron, was now controlled by his daughter, Miss Cameron, of New York, is one of the last of the big ranches of the south to be broken up into farms. The land has been held for speculation in large tracts for the past few years but conditions have been adverse, and now, Miss Cameron, who is in Lethbridge this week, has consented to have placed on the market about two and a half townships, in small tracts to be purchased by small farmers. The ranch is traversed, on the southern end by the Belly river, and on the west by the Little Bow river.

Norway Now Turning Against The Teutons

A dispatch sent from Norway to papers in London says: "Information which has reached us from Oslo, Norway, shows that 24 hours ago Norwegian vessels have been torpedoed. The government organ, Dagbladet, commenting on the German press campaign of the Norway, on the subject of the decree relating to the neutralization of the ports, says that the hostile criticism of the German papers has been condemned even by such Scandinavian journals as are friendly to Germany."

"A leading article in the Verden says that the deliberate murder of so many Norwegian sailors inevitably makes bad blood between the two nations and that it will be a long time before they will be forgotten in Norway. The brutal deeds of German submarines, however, have not caused any hysterics among Norwegian ship-owners."

Returned Soldiers New Number 12,000

Approximately 12,000 Canadian soldiers have now returned to Canada, and have been dealt with by the military hospitals commission. About 4,000 have been discharged as unfit for further service and the remainder claimants of the pension benefit. Another 4,000 or so are out-patients in the convalescent camps pending either final discharge or return to active service. The total number of men in the military hospitals in Canada is nearly 4,000. Another thousand or so are expected to arrive in Canada within the next fortnight.

The hospitals commission is very busy trying to secure at once additional hospital accommodation and medical men for the home staffs.

Last week another 5,000 citizens were taken from Ghent and sent to the front. They were taken to the railroad gait and amid tears and lamentations. Groups of citizens drove down the streets in vehicles singing patriotic songs and sarcastic verses about the Germans, but there was no resistance.

C.P.R. Trains Now On Winter Schedule

The winter time table on the main line of the C. P. R. went into effect last Sunday.

With the exception of No. 4, there is very little change in the time the trains pass through here. In future No. 2 will stop here in the morning. The following is the new schedule: Going east—No. 2, 7.35. No. 4, 11.16. Going west—No. 3, 10.30. No. 1, 12.35.

Austro-German Offensive Stopped

The Rumanians have checked the offensive of the Austro-German forces on the Transylvania and Rumanian borders and the Rumanians have held up the advance of the enemy in Bukovina. The Rumanians at several points have captured considerable number of prisoners, the total being in the neighborhood of 1,500 and important guns have also been taken.

While Bucharest and Petrograd reports the positions as unchanged in Dobruja, Berlin and Sofia say the Rumanians and Russians in Dobruja are still in retreat. Before the Germans, Bulgarians and Turkish troops and are now endeavoring to make their way across the Danube at various points on pontoon bridges.

On the Transylvania front the Rumanians and Russians apparently are operating successfully against the Teutonic allies at the junction of Bukovina, Transylvania and Rumania and to the south near Campulung and in the Jil valley have gained success. The fighting in the Jil valley the Rumanians are declared by Bucharest to have captured two howitzer batteries, which were turned against the Austro-Germans. According to Berlin, the Teutons have made additional gains in the mountainous and in the direction of Campulung.

Parcels For Prisoners Not Properly Packed

The post office department has been notified by the British post office that many parcels sent from Canada to prisoners of war in Germany are being received in London in a damaged condition, so that frequently they have to be repacked before they can be forwarded to Holland for transmission to Germany. The British post office adds that in most cases the damage appears to be due to the fact that the parcels are inadequately packed by the senders.

The public are warned, therefore, that parcels for prisoners of war, unless they are very strongly packed, will probably arrive in such a condition as to be little or no use to the recipients.

Map of Homesteads Now Available

There has just been issued by the Department of the Interior a new edition of the "Land and Pre-emption" map which gives useful and interesting information, corrected to a recent date, with regard to the land situation and the pre-emption and purchase of land in the railway lands grant of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa.

Says Both German Subs Have Been Sunk

The National Zeitung of Berlin prints the following concerning the German submarines Bremen and the U-53. "Both the Bremen and the U-53 have been sunk, either captured or sunk. The Bremen never reached the United States nor returned. The U-53 was sent in search of the vessels but found no trace of them. The loss of the two commercial submarines has not yet been officially admitted."

British casualties reported in October in all areas are, officers, 4,281; men, 192,708.

Junior Red Cross Society Formed Here

At the regular meeting of the Red Cross Society held last Tuesday afternoon, Miss Gilmora and Miss Neill, on behalf of the school teachers and high school girls, interviewed the members of the society and asked permission to form a junior branch among the girls of the higher grade at school. Naturally the suggestion was greeted with warm approval and the permission asked for was unanimously granted.

Immediately after having their suggestion sanctioned the young ladies proceeded to organize when the following officers were elected:

President—Lola Fairbank.
Secretary—Lena Pietz.
Already 35 girls have joined the junior branch and all have signified their willingness to meet every Wednesday afternoon to sew.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Crooks Dies Suddenly

A very sad and sudden death took place last Sunday evening when Howard Crooks, the 17 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Crooks passed away. The little fellow had been in the best of health all day but about 8 o'clock in the evening when he was being put to bed his father noticed he was acting strangely. Although he did not appear to be suffering much he was taken to the hospital where he died after ten or fifteen minutes. He had taken convulsions and his heart was not strong enough to stand the strain. The funeral took place last Saturday afternoon, at the St. Andrew's church where service was held, thence to Hillside cemetery. Medicine Hat, Mr. and Mrs. Crooks have a number of children and the community is at their bereavement.

Embargo on Cattle On Winnipeg Market

Livestock has been pouring into Winnipeg at an unprecedented rate for the past week, due to heavy liquidation from districts where returns have been very small and farmers are selling cattle for ready money. Last Saturday there were 4,000 head of sale cattle in the Union yards and some 40 or 50 cars were run over to the C. P. R. yards.

As a result of this rush an embargo on receipts for a few days was put in force in order to clean up and have a fresh start.

ALLIES PUSH AHEAD ON THE WEST FRONT.

Following up their advantages of Saturday, the British and French trenches were taken, the British captured another Sunday to the northeast of Lens. The French made advances near Salmy-Saillard and Blacques. Heavy artillery activity against the British positions is being carried out by the Germans in the Lens sector and elsewhere.

BULGARS FORCED BACK IN MACEDONIA.

The allies continue to gain ground in the Balkan area and considerable progress has been made in Macedonia, where the French have captured a village and a system of Bulgarian trenches. The British have repulsed an enemy attack north of Ormanli, while the Cerns the Serbs have advanced.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Crooks wish to thank their friends for the many expressions of sympathy and the great bereavement in the death of their young son.

First returns on balling in Australia on the question of compulsory military service, according to Reuters' Melbourne correspondent, show a considerable majority opposed to conscription. Incomplete returns give, say, 537,000 yes, 753,000 no.

BIG CROP OF THIS DISTRICT NOW MOVING

Buyers Busy and Conditions
Satisfactory -- Yield Will
Average Well up -- Prices
Keep Soaring.

The Grain Elevator and Bryant's warehouse are busy these days. The continued fine weather of the past two weeks has permitted threshing to go on uninterrupted and as a result great progress is being made in that line.

Reports coming from all quarters are most encouraging. There is no doubt now that this district will get another record crop to its list. The wheat is averaging all the way from 35 to 40 bushels to the acre and it is all grading one and two northern. The prices paid by the buyers here are also very satisfactory. They have been running from $1.05 to $1.71 a bushel.

So far the buyers here have been able to handle the rush most satisfactorily and with a reasonable supply of cars there is little fear of a backlog of grain in the elevators.

From present indications it is estimated there will be between two hundred and fifty and three hundred bushels of grain in the district this season. This is an exceptionally good showing when it is remembered that it is only in the last few years that any grain at all has been marketed at this point. Previous to that this was an entirely unbroken record. There is no doubt that the exceptionally large crops in this immediate neighborhood the last two years will make a great increase in average yield per acre every year in the future.

Given Six Months In Lethbridge Gao

Some time ago an employee in one of the industries here lost his pay check. It was found by another employee named George Worsley, who informed the check and had it changed. The mounted police were notified and soon ran down Worsley, who appeared before the district court in Medicine Hat this morning on a charge of larceny. He was sentenced to six months hard labor in the Lethbridge gaol.

What Germany Might Have Done at Start

Admiral Lord Berosford, an English naval strategist, in a letter to Col. R. M. Thompson, president of the Navy League of Canada, states, says that if the Germans had attacked us at first without a declaration of war, and sent what they could have sent, 140 cruisers and armed merchantmen, to our unprotected trade routes, we could have been brought to our knees in a couple of months.

THE NATIONAL SERVICE COMMISSION STARTS.

The first meetings of the new national service commission were held in Toronto last Saturday and at times drew thousands of people. Premier Hearn, N. W. Howell and the Countess of Limerick were the chief guests. The commission was organized to plan the extreme need of men to fill Canada's ranks and declared that the existence of the Empire was at stake.

NELLIE McCLUNG'S CREED.

Mrs. Nellie McClung, of Edmonton, the famous lecturer and author, in one of her characteristic addresses said to her audience, "I believe there is nothing too good to be true. I believe in the worth of our hands day by day and the dignity of labor. I believe there is enough gasoline, labor, land and money and everything in this world to do the work of the world. I believe in God. I believe God has given enough for everybody. I believe in you people. I believe in myself."

LET US HAVE IT.

Judging from the actions of various organizations throughout the country, there is a growing uneasiness about the present high cost of living and the even worse prospects for the future.

Among other things, government control of food stuffs is suggested as a means of keeping the necessities of life down to the average man's level. So far as the absolute necessities are concerned this might work out all right but why stop there. It seems to us that it is in many other lines, especially here in the west, that the real hold-up game is being played. "Freight rates," is given as the common excuse by wholesalers and retailers in the west for the big difference in prices here as compared with the same articles in the east.

This excuse was badly warped only the other day when a Montreal man went into a western store to purchase a certain article. He was told it was six dollars. He said he could buy the same article in Montreal for $4.00, and when he asked what made the difference he was told "freight." Now this Montreal man happened to be a railroad man and after investigation he discovered that, when purchased in case lots, the freight on this single article amounted to something less than five cents. Yet there was $2.00 difference between eastern and western price because of "freight."

We have heard of other similar cases in different lines but this one is enough to illustrate the point. The government might find a way to remedy this complaint when it comes to this high cost of living question.

This high cost of living is the class of one-sided one but the class of people who are hit the hardest by the combining of the many sides which go to make up the whole situation, are the class who do and say things they simply have to grin and bear it. This class is the common, ordinary, every day class, the class which forms the larger portion of the total population; the class that neither wears overalls nor yet silk hose but that doesn't belong to unions and can't afford to go on strike, but depends rather on his own individual ability for promotion and a raise in salary. In a worst it is the class that has to sternal foot the bill no matter whether it is the strikers or the capitalists that win out.

It certainly is about time this class should be getting some consideration from our governments and if this proposed government control will have a tendency to give it to them we say let us have it, and right smartly at that.

If wheat keeps on going up as it is at present, the housewife will have to change the wrong of that old song to "I feed thee every month." It will be a case of potato cakes for the other three weeks.

We are informed there are a few cheapsons in town which are exposed and in very dangerous condition. These should be taken to at once. Sometimes when fatalities happen in such man traps as these, those responsible for them are adjudged guilty of manslaughter. Is it worth taking the chance?

CULTIVATION OF FLAX.

The possibilities of producing flax in Canada have been proven to be very considerable. It would seem very, therefore, to do anything possible to encourage the growth of this industry in districts suited thereto at this time, when unusually high prices will serve as an impetus to its development and extension. So writes the director of Dominion Experimental Farms, while the Dominion botanist speaks of "enhanced interest in an industry for which there certainly is a wide scope in suitable localities in the Dominion of Canada."

Flax is grown in Canada to some extent, but not, judging by statements of authorities, to the extent that the demands of the state, usefulness and the soil and climatic conditions warrant. Mr. Adams, in his bulletin, which can be had free by application to the publications branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, describes the plant in all its particulars, tells of the soil and climate required, and sets forth, with illuminating drawings and with minutest detail all that is required in the cultivation and harvesting. He also shows that in two years flax has doubled in price.

PROMISING PROSPECTS.

The prospects for the Red Cross Society here realizing its wish to be able to double its work for the coming year are at present most promising.

Judging from conversations we have had with several farmers from the surrounding country we have no doubt that they will respond handsomely to the cause, and that their contributions alone will go a long way towards bringing about the desired effect.

Added to this there will be the promised assistance from the school pupils along various lines. The action of the high school girls in forming a junior Red Cross society is particularly noteworthy.

Added to some of their spare time to sewing for the society, is indeed most commendable. The result of their efforts will, no doubt, mean a large increase in the number of soldiers' comforts shipped from this point for the coming year.

Then there is the vast improvement in conditions in town this year over last. On the whole we feel that the Red Cross Society should have no difficulty in raising its desire to double their work this year.

RUSTED STRAW.

The farmers in the portion of western Canada which was affected by rust this year are very much concerned as to whether or not cattle will have any bad effects from feeding on this rusted straw.

The Farmers' Advocate, in trying to solve the problem has secured advice from several districts where rust is a common thing. None of the writers have known of any bad effects from feeding rusted wheat straw and some claim it is even better than the clean straw, as the nourishment which would otherwise have gone to the grain is retained in the straw.

Fortunately the farmers of this district are not very much concerned, as there was no rust to amount to anything around here.

Those Winnipeg editors who spent a few hours behind the bars are now trying to figure out who put the gauze in Galt.

It now appears that the rumored provincial election which was to have taken place this fall has been called off. There is no doubt that the government was thinking seriously of bringing on an election, but "the little bird that tells" evidently whispered in the ears of the men behind the gun.

A Calgary minister has resigned his charge to study law. He claims that as a man grows older in the ministry his usefulness wanes while in law he improves with age. That may be true but there are a surprising number of lawyers who must have the happy faculty of retaining their youth for a long time after taking up this profession.

Austin Chamberlain was waited upon by some of his constituents who complained that nothing was being done in his constituency to forward the Unifont party interests. Chamberlain's answer to them was:

"I frankly confess for myself that since I have been a member of the government, I have been quite unable to give any time or thought to party affairs, and I should certainly be unwilling at such a time to take any step or hold any gathering in my own constituency which were a party aspect. We have to think and act as a nation and party wait until the war has been won."

The example set by Mr. Chamberlain would be well to follow by some politicians of both parties in this country.

The defeat of conscription in Australia may be taken as a fair indication how it would go in Canada at the present time, if submitted to a vote. If a vote had been taken at the commencement of the war the result would, no doubt, have been different, but now when Canada, with the exception of Quebec, has done so nobly, any further drain-on the west especially—would be serious. The best of our men have volunteered without conscription, and it is because they have done so from a sense of duty, that they have made a name for themselves on the battlefields; a name which will shine through the ages as a glowing tribute to the part which Canada played in this conflict. Conscription now would only get slacker of the Quebec type. It wouldn't get soldiers.

CLEVELAND'S LOYALTY.

Pennant Nobly Deceived By Loyalty Fans—Sad History

Cleveland fans richly deserve a pennant as a reward for their loyalty for the first secured a National League franchise back in 1915. With the exception of the years—between 1884 and 1891—it has been in the hands of the like big leagues. Yet never, over that sweep of time, has a pennant been won over to the ball park. The Ohioans sent over 30 entries into the big league race, but never came back a winner. Each springtime found the Cleveland fans high but in the end they have been dashed to disappointment. The history of baseball in Cleveland is one long chapter of disappointments. And yet, the Cleveland fans have remained faithful. There have been times when they supported in a meager way only because the team itself was such a joke sometimes, yet, in the whole, the fans there have been generous to an extent.

Twice in modern history have Cleveland teams been within striking distance of their goal—a pennant. And on both of those occasions the baseball enthusiasm in Cleveland increased to a frenzy of excitement; swept through the crowd and practically engulfed it. Back in 1908 Cleveland lost the pennant by half a game. Had a great catastrophe visited the city, the sorrow and anguish could not have been greater. The city was in semi-convulsion for days afterward. On that day in 1908 when Cleveland was scheduled to play its last two games with it, Louisa when Cleveland, practically all the offices and shops were deserted after 3 p.m. The fans congregated before the newspaper score boards to watch the results. Scarcely a life was forgotten save that Cleveland had two games to play and that by winning both it would win the highest honors in baseball. The details of the game were unimportant. Wild roars of applause swept through the downtown district every time a Cleveland player performed some valiant deed. But when the final score was posted, the score that showed Cleveland lost to the game and the pennant was gone. Hitchman had leaped on a driver's man rolled from every throat. Sorrow filled the city.

Cleveland waited five years—and then another team that along toward the pennant goal. It was Joe Muro's 1913 outfit. Almost all the club's time into the October stretch, the Cleveland team was in position, within striking distance of the Athletics. And then they went east on the final swing along the Atlantic seaboard. The crucial games were to be played at Cleveland had sent a fan in his team. But the Naps suffered six consecutive defeats in their first six games on that trip—and the pennant drama became a third place disappointment.

The Ways of Mothers

Here are two good stories told by Mr. Hicks. Mrs. Gordon had recently moved into the neighborhood. "I thought I would come and tell you that your James has been fibbing with my husband," said one of the neighbors one morning as she called at Mrs. Gordon's door. "And settle the matter if I could."

"Well, for my part," responded Mrs. Gordon heartily, "I have no time to enter into any discussion about the children's quarrels. I consider myself above such matters as these. It holds myself to bear it," was the reply. "I'll send James over on a stretcher in an hour or two!"

Belgium's Newspaper

A strongly pro-French Dutch paper, the "Nieuws de Maasrict" gives the following information about the methods of publishing of the "Libre Belgique." The members of the staff do not know one another, nor do they know who is the editor. They all give their services free and they confer only through trusted intermediaries whom they do not know and each of whom is immediately replaced by another if he happens to disappear. The same system applies to those who distribute the paper. They do not know the identity of those who hand them their bundles of the paper—however a saw-lease appears. The Germans evidently have realized that they will never be able to stop the paper, though they are well aware that it is printed in the territory under their control.

"Seven" And The Enemy

John Gansel, who reads the war news before looking at the sporting page, was once a military hero himself. He served under Dole in the revolution in Hawaii and with credit. One night John was on sentry duty outside a house occupied by high officials. It was stationed near a gateway and was standing under a coconut palm when a ripe nut fell and burst open on the stone wall. It is related that John shot it three times before the shells ceased bouncing.

Owing to the change in the time of arrival of the train from the west we do not get afternoon dillies delivered at night now.

The teaching staff at the school will entertain the high school scholars to a hall-on party at the school next Friday evening. This is a good idea. There should be more such evenings for the young folk.

Mrs. D. Broadfoot, who has been suffering from internal troubles for several weeks past, was taken to the Medicine Hat hospital last Saturday where she underwent an operation. The operation was a success and she is now progressing favorably.

The Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church gave an afternoon tea in the church last Monday. There was a good attendance and most enjoyable afternoon was spent. The ladies were amply rewarded for their trouble.

All the teachers from the school here attended the convention at the Hat last Thursday and Friday. They report a pleasant time. Mayor Bott and Principal Liggett represented (Redcliff) on the business program and both made excellent addresses.

The children in the school here are now contributing monthly donations to the fund which is to be used to adopt Canadian prisoners in Germany. The children, we understand, are contributing enthusiastically into the scheme and we have no doubt they will make a good showing.

The Manitoba government has decided that there will be a new trial for Sir Rodmond Bohn and the other ex-cabinet ministers on the charge of conspiracy to defraud the province. The trial is billed for the fall session. It will be remembered that when these men were tried before the jury disagreed.

Since Mayor Bott addressed those two hundred school misses at Medicine Hat last week he has received one hundred and ninety-eight invitations to be present at annual school convocations next month. Is it any wonder his workshop wears a worried look these days. He can't understand who the other two can be.

Hallow's passed off very quietly last Tuesday. The boys and girls played the usual pranks and had a good time. It is to their credit that we are able to report no serious damage to property being done. Some of the older boys and girls made a few midnight calls which the "called one" enjoyed very much even though some of them had to get out of bed to receive the visitors.

We have some excellent values in woolen dress goods. Gibson & Tupper.

Town Clerk Courtnell deposes for Edmonton next Sunday evening to attend the annual convention of the Union of Alberta municipalities.

See those Sweater Coats at Gibson & Tupper; they are good values.

The grain buyers here are today paying $1.68 a bushel for wheat.

Great interest is being taken around here in the U. S. presidential election which takes place next Tuesday.

A brilliant tournament is billed to commence at Mac's bowling alley next Monday. A good lot of players has been secured for the different events.

The local Odd Fellows lodge had pleasure of a visit from the officers of Medicine Hat lodge for their regular meeting here this week. The visiting officers filled the respective chairs in the lodge and put on the work of the initiation degree. After the regular business of the meeting a most enjoyable evening was spent.

Don't forget that we take your order for made-to-measure suits, $18.00 to $40.00. We also have good range of overcoats. Gibson & Tupper.

Owing to our mistake in setting up T. A. Hicks' suit last week Mr. Hicks has a number of work shoes on hand now which he would not otherwise have had. Instead of the new, ready-made work shoes we had it work shirts. As Mr. Hicks had a big run on work shirts last week he is not taking the trouble to make good the mistake. He says there was more money in the shirts than in boots at the price he is selling them.

THE UNION BIBLE CLASS.

The class meets in the Presbyterian church on Sabbath afternoon at 3:30. All are welcome. Subject, "The Christian Motive to Total Abstinence," Romans 14:13 to 15:5. There is no reply to the argument of that motive; it must prevail.

The sympathy of the class goes out to its teacher, Mr. A. E. Cable, who received a telegram on Wednesday that his mother had passed away from earth. The news was a great shock, as he had a letter in her own hand, Bradford, Ohio, on Wednesday, and expects to be gone no more than two Sundays. In his absence the class will meet as usual.

LACROSSE IN OTTAWA LURED MANY STARS

Famous Old Players Gathered From All Over Canada to Watch Champion Teams

In the old days Ottawa gathered her best lacrosse players from all parts of the country, but they all remained loyal to the Capital and may be noticed at any of the Ottawa games eager to help their old love along. Hugh and George Carson came to Ottawa from Orangeville, where Harry Carson and Harry Belmont also learned the game and attracted the attention of Ottawa "scouts." Tommie Brown, originally a center fielder, who closed his career as a goalkeeper, had come from Orillia, while Barney Quinn, one of the greatest defence men lacrosse has ever produced, made his reputation at Prescott before joining the Capitals. Billy Patterson was a Toronto product as was Dave Coulson, while Billy Lacey placed Cornwall on the map. Pete Green, M. Regan, C. O'Brien and the late Frank Blomquist came to Ottawa from Stouffville, while Harry Charlton, Jimmie Devine and Mike Shaw, who later strengthened the famous Ottawa-Capital combination were all Ottawa boys.

The Palmy Days. The Ottawa lacrosse surprise in lacrosse for many years and Capitals who succeeded them in the amalgamation, became equally noted for their successes. It is a well known fact that the Ottawa-Capital amalgamation resulted in the fielding of one of the greatest teams that ever appeared. They remained intact and defied all comers until the scandal of 1916, which resulted in the passing of four members of the team and the ultimate professionalization of the entire team. That was the beginning of the end for amateur lacrosse and for many years the public lacked confidence in the game it had supported so generously.

Players Made Good. The name Capital is said to have been drawn from a list, following a deadlock as to the choice of a name for the combined forces. The majority of those who composed the invincible Ottawa and Capital teams later became well known business men or civil servants. Their early training helped many to progress in the bigger problems of life and many owed their successes mainly to lacrosse, which all admit rendered greatly when the powers that were decided to professionalize it. One former Capital star, later at the head of a Sparks street business house, related how he came to Ottawa with a lacrosse stick and four dollars at his belt, and while another delights in telling that he was a physical wreck until he took up lacrosse and then blossomed out as one of the greatest runners in Canada.
